Ackworth School, a co-educational boarding and day school, was founded in 1779 by the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers). Its ethos and values underpin everything we do. The school is academically non-selective and provides an excellent range of facilities and extracurricular opportunities, recently achieving "Excellent" in the FCI/EQI (February 2023). Our pupils and staff benefit hugely from the all-through school structure where staff can expand their experience by delivering teaching across years 5 to 8. The Head is a member of both HMC and the Society of Heads.

As a non-selective school, we offer a broad education that supports all abilities. Our small class sizes mean that our teachers can dedicate more time to deliver a rich curriculum, allowing all pupils to make progress. Our pupils are one of Ackworth's USP's. Visitors to the school never fail to acknowledge how amazing they are and how positive the encounter is. This is something that makes a teaching career at Ackworth such a rewarding one.

- be an outstanding teacher with a proven track record of securing excellent outcomes.
- have up-to-date knowledge of subject curricula and assessment.
- have a passion for languages and be able to transfer this enthusiasm into their teaching.
